ENGINEER GUBERNATOR BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL

Well-Known Trainman Must Answer Larceny Charge In Greene County Criminal Court

Henry F. Gubernator, a Frisco engineer, was held to the criminal court yesterday afternoon by Justice J. B. Johnson of North Campbell township. The defendant is accused of being implicated in the robbery of a Frisco freight car at Nichols January 19, at which time a number of revolvers and shotguns were stolen. Bond was fixed at $500, which was readily furnished by Gubernator.

"Hoodoo" Dowdy, who was supposed to have fled the country surprised the officers. He was the only witness examined by the state. The defense introduced no testimony except a number of character witnesses who testified unfavorably regarding Dowdy's reputation. Dowdy said he purchased the revolvers from Gubernator several weeks ago, agreeing to when he could dispose of the weapon for $5. He testified he had sold the gun to J. Conway for $5.50 but had paid the defendant. Gubernator's friends do not believe him. —Springfield Leader.

POISONER APPEALS TOWN

Onto, Wis., Feb. 4.—That the village of Suring is destined to be wiped out by poison is now the fear of every person in that lumbering town in the north west part of this county, where yesterday the 3-year-old daughter of Nels Nelson died after eating poisoned candy left on a doorstep. The youngster son of Nels will recover, but the villagers now afraid the poisoners will use some other methods to attack other families.

The work is supposed to be that of a demented woman, but the woman suspected has not been shown to have had any hand in the murder of the child yesterday.

The poisoning follows the sending out last year to the many families of the village a series of letters in which it was promised the writer would poison every person in the place.

THAT CANNON IN FLAT CREEK

Just before R. P. Keck and family moved from Mississippi County, Ark., to near this city, an old Confederate soldier, said to be one of Mr. Keck's sons, that there was a cannon thrown into Flat Creek, 3 or 4 miles down the creek from Cassville and that he was present when it was rolled in. The hole in the creek, where the cannon was rolled in, is known as the "blue hole," and has always been very deep, and is just above the last crossing of Flat Creek, going to the Table Mt. Mill from Cassville. Cassville Democrat.

PROF. C. F. MARBUT MAY LEAVE UNIVERSITY

We fear that Missouri will lose another one of her able professors, in the State University, in the person of Prof. C. F. Marbut of the Geological Department. The U. S. Department of Agriculture—Bureau of Soils at Washington, D. C., has made him a good offer, and we fear, he is seriously contemplating accepting their offer. Prof. Marbut's ability has gone to a national reputation, and we hope he may relent and stay at home, where he is needed. Should he decide to go, we, as well as all of his hosts of friends in Cassville and Barry county, wish him great and continued success. —Cassville Democrat.

A TURKEY DINNER

A wager of a nice fat, juicy turkey was made by B. D. Creed with S. A. Chapell a few weeks ago that Chapell would be reappointed. Chapell bet that he wouldn't. Judge Creed met Mr. Chapell on the street Saturday morning and called for the turkey. He was promised a big fat one and now the Judge is casting about to decide who, beside the postmaster, the editor of the TIMES and Colonel Elder should be invited to the feed. He wants to get the dimensions of the fowl before completing his list of guests.

McREYNOLDS—McCONNELL

The marriage of Sam D. McReynolds and Miss Clara McConnell was solemnized Thursday evening at 9:30 at the home of the bride's brother, Arch McConnell, on Elm Street. The wedding was a quiet affair, only the immediate families of the bride and groom being present, and the solemn words were spoken by Rev. Triplett of the South Methodist church. The parlor was prettily arrayed in pink and white for the occasion and many beautiful carnations were used in decorations.

The happy couple are both from prominent families of our city and are highly esteemed and popular young people. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McConnell and is an accomplished young lady of many graces of mind and person. The groom is a son of Mrs. J. W. Vance and is a substantial young man with many admirable qualities.

Mr. and Mrs. McReynolds left on the 11:30 train last night for several weeks' visit in Oklahoma City and other points. On their return to Peirce City they will be at home to their many friends at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vance.—Peirce City Leader.

SHOCKED BY ELECTRICITY

Mrs. S. C. Mills received a severe electric shock at her home Thursday evening.

She was shocked when turning on an electric light in her kitchen. As she touched the electric light bulb, she put her hand, which was wet, on the cook stove to steady herself. The stove is connected with the water pipes which run into the ground and this made a complete circuit. She was unconscious for a short time, but is suffering from no bad effects, except weakness from the shock.
